

ESO Guidelines for 2020-2022

(report form is on 2nd page)

What is ESO? Epsilon Sigma Omicron is an opportunity for women's club members to expand their knowledge, develop and improve skills, and develop an interest in reading, libraries and sharing information. ESO's motto is: Enlighten your own pathway.

Now is the perfect time to encourage members to pledge to ESO and begin to track the reading they're already doing. GFWC and CFWC recently updated the program so it is easier for members to participate and be recognized for their achievements. In October 2020, GFWC published an updated ESO handbook and a suggested reading list (accessible through GFWC website member portal or on TVWC's website), which offers direction for those who may need help branching into new reading categories. Any book-type read is acceptable (i.e., kindle, audiobook. etc.)

So how does it work? First, sign up to participate. No charge. Read. Choose 4 categories (there are 25) and read 4 books in each of 4 different categories. Complete the NEW category book report form by writing a few sentences on your opinion: would you recommend the book? what did you learn? You do NOT have to do a synopsis of the book, just opinion. Could be as simple as "Loved it" or "Hated it", but it is our hope that you would expand on your thoughts. Also remember to add the # of pages and your rating from 1-5, to be included in an exclusive list of books for ESO members.

When you have completed 4 Category Report Forms (having read 16 books), submit the forms to earn the "Membership" level. Keep reading to move up to the next level...ad infinitum. Completed forms should be submitted to your club ESO chair. THE CHAIR FOR 2020-21 IS JERI MCLEES jeriqeg@gmail.com. She will forward them to the district ESO chair or submit your reports directly to Shirley Lorraine for tracking and recognition.
